STEEPLECHASE FOR TELLFARE

WINS RACE FOR TRIAL HUNTERS AT BENNINGS.

Hitchcock's Smoker Scores in a Drive Spencer Wills, Jublice, James Crawford and Silver Ball Capture Other Events-Five Favorites Successful.

WASHINGTON, March 28 .- Five favorites and a second choice were successful at Benrings this afternoon and the layers received a severe drubbing from the talent. It was a perfect day for racing and a big crowd turned at, filling the stands and swarming over the lawn. Many society people were on hand see the running of the Trial Hunters replechase at about two miles. Tellfare, in McMurtrie's colors, was made an even favorite at 5 to 2. There were eleven starters they went over the course in excellent Savage, the professional, took Tellfare to the front at the outset, made all the gunning and won in a gallop by six lengths. Recruit had to be contented with second noney, ten lengths in front of Fanquier, 10 The time was 4:13 3-5.

Hitchcock's Yankee colt, Smoker, trained by Madden, won the first race, a handicap for three-year-olds and upward at five and a half furlongs. He was a favorite at 4 to 5, but Shaw had to put the Hitchcock colt under a sharp drive to win by a head from Pantouffe, 6 to 1. Workman, 9 to 1, was third, two lengths back. The time was Capt. W. H. Mosby's colt Spencer Wells, a to 5 favorite, with McCarthy up, made a runaway of the second race, for two-year-elds, four and a half furlongs, and rolled home with five lengths to spare in 0:59 3-5. James McLaughlin's Nutmeg, a gray filly by Golden Maxim—Gray Agnes, at 20 to 1, came strongly at the end and beat Jack Glenn, 15 to 1, two lengths for the place.

Fred Littlefield's Jubilee, 8 to 5 second choice, took the measure of Bellwether, 4 to 5 favorite, in the third event, for three-year-olds, at six furlongs, in 1:17 1-5. Giles was a poor third.

James Crawford, 3 to 2 favorite, was much

James Crawford, 3 to 2 favorite, was much the best of a poor lot in the fifth race, at six and a half furlongs. He breezed home six lengths to the good in 1:242-5. Venus, backed from 12 to 6, beat Bill Daly's Umbrella, 7 to 1, a neck for the place.

Silver Ball, at the short price of 8 to 3, won the last race, for maidens, at a mile and forty yards, pretty much as she pleased. Bill Daly's Grace Cameron, backed down to 3 to 1, always held the others sale and beat Grandpa, 6 to 1, the well known jumper, two lengths for the place. The time was 1:47.3-5.

McCarthy again rode two winners and leads the jockeys for the meeting with a safe margin. The summaries: FIRST BACS.

GOSSIP OF THE RACETRACK. George Langdon Buys Animus and Call Boy From Madden.

George Langdon, popularly known on the racetracks as "Whitey," has been so succonsful lately in selecting winners that he has just purchased Animus and Call Boy from John E. Madden, and has turned them over to Willie Shields to be trained. Two years ago Langdon had a phenomenal stretch of luck at Sheepshead Bay one afternoon. He backed several long shots and cleaned up more than $50,000 in wagers. He purchased an automobile and became one of the fast-est speed merehants to and from the tracks. But it was not long after that that Langdon began to lose steadily, and when his mare Flip Flap was beaten by Holscher in the Brighton Cup he went flat broke. Since then Langdon has been having his ups and downs. During the past winter he enjoyed fair suc cess at one of the California tracks and finally succeeded in amassing a bankroll. When he arrived at Bennings last Monday luck was still with him and he is said to have picked up a big bet on Bellwether. Langdon was a betting commissioner at Morris Park several years ago, when he got his first roll by backing Eugenia Burch at odds of 15 to 1. He is not a spectacular operator, but gener ally prefers to remain in the background He has always been an enthusiastic horseman, and is never happier than when he sees his colors in front. Ben Strome stood fifth in the list of winning sires last year, his get clearing up $91,939 in stakes and purses. Forty-nine of his get started and twenty-two of them won. Roseben stood at the head of the list with $13,805. Ben Ban was second with $11,675 and Ben Fleet, who died recently, was third with $10,788.

ben stood at the head of the list with $18,805. Ben Ban was second with $11,675 and Ben Fleet, who died recently, was third with $10,768.

Up to the opening of the Bennings meeting the leading jockeys at the winter track were as follows: Shilling, 96 winners: W. Miller, 83; Notter, 72; V. Powers, 54; G. Burns, 52; E. Dugan, 47; R. McDaniel, 38; J. Lee, 38; Gilbert, 36; Preston, 35; Musgrave, 33; C. Koerner, 30; J. Hayes, 29; E. Lynch, 27; S. Fiynn, 27; Kirschbaum, 26; C. Ross, 24; W. Kelly, 22; Buxton, 21; Keogh, 21; Harty, 21; Sumter, 20; A. Walsh, 20; Sandy, 19; W. Ott, 16; Scoville, 15; Goldstein, 15; Minder, 14; McCahey, 14; Shriner, 14.

Persons returning from Havana, who went there to engage in the racing recently inaugurated, report that the Cuban city promises great possibilities, but not under the present management. The men who have charge of the meeting are reported to know practically nothing about conducting racing affairs. The plant is only half finished and a meeting should not have been attempted this season. During the first few days there was a splendid attendance, but there has been a marked falling off since then.

NEW. RULES FOR YACHTS. N. Y. Y. C. Adopts Handleap Class and Agrees on Conditions.

Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt presided at a regular meeting of the New York Yacht Club, held at its clubhouse last night, at which a new departure in racing rules was submitted, comprising eleven new rules, to be known as handicap racing rules, for a new class that has been adopted called the handicap class.

The new rules provide that a yacht shall not be eligible to enter a handicap race until he third season after launching: that yachts n these races shall not sail in cruising trim, and that lug foresails in schooners shall be barred. Yachts are to be rated for handicapping according to the average of actul speed in seconds per nautical mile, in five aces sailed, which ruces shall be selected by he handicap committee, which shall consist if three members, of which the measurer of he club shall be one.

yacht not starting in one or more races record will be arbitrarily handicapped ac-cording to the judgment of the handicap committee, which judgment shall be final until such yacht has sailed five races.

The racing rules of the club shall govern the class with the exception of those rules the class with the exception of those rules which specifically refer to rating measurement and time allowance. The handicap committee may divide the yachts into two divisions one for schooners and one for sloops and yawls. The committee may further divide each division into classes according to speed. The matter of such division shall be left with the committee with power, and the decision shall be final.

NO INFORMATION FOR POOLROOMS Allan Pinkerton Says They Cannot Do Business on Bennings Races.

When asked yesterday whether the poolrooms in this State were receiving information from the Bennings racetrack Allan for the same." Pinkerton, head of the Pinkerton Agency in the East, made this statement

"Since the opening of the racing season at Washington the poolrooms throughout the country have not received any of the data necessary for the conduct of their business from that point. Not a scratch nor a jockey nor any of the other details of racing in connection with Bennings have been secured by the agents of the poolrooms, and as despents have they become in consequence. cured by the agents of the poolrooms, and so desperate have they become in consequence that they set fire to and destroyed some of the canvas screens which have been raised outside the grounds. I have had representatives in some of the most prominent of the New York rooms during the last three days, and I speak by the card. The information from the California tracks, at Santa Anta Park and Emeryville, more than 3,000 miles away, and from New Orleans, upward of 2,000 miles, came with great regularity, and it was on these races that the poolrooms.

along contended, that racing in this State or on any track under the Jockey Club's control was not necessary for the continuance of the poolroom. Those who know assert with renewed emphasis that if the Agnew-Hart bill becomes a law poolrooms in New York will multiply, as the Jockey Club is the only agent now striving to close them."

Nominations for Officers of Piencer Motoring Organization of This Country Meet Unanimous Approval-A. M. C. M. A.

Committee Meets Here on Monday. Unanimous approval of the candidates nominated was expressed yesterday by local automobilists who had heard of the makeup of the regular ticket to be voted upon by the members of the Automobile Club of America at the annual meeting on April 14. Exessions of commendation were heard on every side, and members of the trade vied with the owners and users of cars in the prediction that America's greatest automobile club was about to enter upon a career of greater and more extended usefulness than ver before. It was declared that the men named constituted the greatest assemblage of prominent and influential men ever named for office in any club of this country.

Well informed observers remarked yesterday that the revelation of the names of the candidates would unquestionably prove more than sufficient to dissipate entirely the opposition which had been predicted would be forthcoming at the annual election. It appeared to be the impression that some of the moving spirits in the possible revolt had thought that another set of men would be named by the nominating committee for the offices that are to be filled next month and they had figured on naming an independent ticket made up of a more progressive lot of men, who might be expected to win out in a hard fought election. This plan, however, is almost certain to be abandoned under existing circumstances, and all factions will undoubtedly turn in to make the pioneer automobile organization of this country the great help to the cause of motoring that it can easily be.

Some of the pessimistic members, who have been disposed to view the future with alarm because the A. C. A. has a bonded indebtedness of $610,000 and President Colgate Hoyt declined a renomination, have professed to be worried over the to be named candidate for president as they declared he must be a man who would not be bothered by the prospect meeting the necessarily large interest charges during his administration. A number of those who had previously voiced doubts on the subject declared yesterday they were quite satisfied that a man who has had the experience with finance that Judge E. H. Gary has had as chairman of the United States Steel board of directors would not lose any sleep over the financial condition of the club. Henry Sanderson, the candidate for first vice-president, has had charge of the club's garage and will continue to run it as chairman of the executive committee. He will succeed Dr. Schuyler Skaats Wheeler.

William G. McAdoo, head of the Hudson unnels project, has been named to succeed John E. Borne as second vice-president.

Robert Lee Morrell has been named to succeed Gen. George Moore Smith as third vicechairman of the A. C. A. contest committee recently conducted the Ormond Beach race meet in Florida with great success against great odds, being aided materially in the latter project by S. M. Butler, secretary of the club.

The candidates named for the board of governors are an unusually notable lot of men. Gen. Horace Porter is named as one of the class to hold office until 1909 to fill out part of the term of Mr. Sanderson, who resigns to become a candidate for the first vice-presidency. Col. John Jacob Astor and anderbilt cup commission in 1905, and as resigns to become a candidate for the first vice-presidency. Col. John Jacob Astor and George F. Chamberlin are the other governors whose terms expire in 1909. The 1910 class includes Dave Hennen Morris, Winthrop E. Scarritt and Albert R. Shattuck. The includes Dave Hennen Morris, Winthrop E. Scarritt and Albert R. Shattuck. The E. Scarritt and Albert E. Shattuck. The candidates selected for the class of 1911 are William Pierson Hamilton, whose term expires this year; Waldron Williams, chairman of the club's bureau of tours, and F. D. Underwood, president of the Erie Railroad. The candidates named for the class of 1912 include Colgate Hoyt and Dr. Wheeler, the retiring president and first vice-president, and Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt of the New York Yacht Club, a member of the great Vanderbilt family whose interest in automobiling appears to have partly weaned him from his love of the sea.

Some question has been raised regarding the right of the Isotta-Fraschini and Flat entries in the Briarciin trophy contest to be classed as stock cars, and the technical board of the Automobile Manufacturers mittee, which is to run the race, has been making an investigation, concerning which the following announcement was made vesterday:

The question as to the eligibility of the The question as to the eligibility of the Fiat and Isotta-Fraschini entries in the Briarcliff contest having been referred to the technical board on the ground that as they had been extered in the Kaiser cuprace of 1907 they were racing cars, the technical board after investigating have decided that as the Kaiser cuprace was for touring cars and not for racing cars, if the cars in question comply with rules IV. and V. of the Briarcliff contest they are eligible for the same."

The announcement is signed by A. L. Riker and Alden L. McMurtry of the technical board and Robert Lee Morrell, ex officio, Mr. Morrell being chairman of the executive board and rules committee of the Automobile Manufacturers committee. Rule IV. referred to provides that the total piston area of engines must not exceed 103.87 square inches and rule V. provides that at least ten similar cars must have been made on or before March 31, 1907.

The Albany Automobile Club's touring committee has announced the route for the annual summer run of the organization. The run will start from Albany on Saturday, June 20, and will continue for five days. The first day's journey will be to Greenfield. Mass.: the objective point on the second day will be Providence, R. I.: New London, Conn., has been selected as the goal for the third day's trip: on the fourth day New York city will be visited and on the flith day the tourists will travel home from New York to Albany by way of Waterbury, Conn.

That enterprising automobile organization of Philadelphia, the Quaker City Motor Club, has hopes of making its annual banquet unusually notable through the presence of President Roosevelt. A formal invitation is to be extended to the President through Congressman J. Hampton Moore, and the date of the banquet will be arranged to suit the convenience of Mr. Roosevelt and Gov. Stuart of Pennsylvania, who has already received an invitation to be present. The affair will mark the opening of the spring automobile season in the Keystone State, and the invitation to the President follows the inauguration of the movement by the Quaker City Motor Club to induce the Government to sanction the formation of a volunteer military automobile corps to aid the State troops or regulars in times of necessity. The resolutions adopted by the club, in which the organization offered to form such a corps from its own members to serve the nation, State or city in time of war or emergency, were sent to President Roosevelt personally, and the officers of the club hope he will consent to attend their banquet and make an address expressing his views on the subject. Automobiles have become so popular with the Senators and Representatives at Washington that they have begun to give serious consideration to the matter of providing some place to store their machines while they attend to affairs of state. While many of the wealthier lawmakers have chauffeurs there are still a considerable number of them who drive their own cars, and these are behind the movement to establish a garage under the terrace of the Capitol. Small electric runabouts are very popular in Washington owing to its smoothly paved streets and the absence of steep hills, and many of the Senators and Representatives use these machines to travel between their residences and the Capitol. In addition to the inconvenience of having seat cushions soaked by sudden rainstorms when the cars are left standing unguarded outside the Capitol there is always a chance that some meddlesome person will tamper with the cars.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 26.-Arrangements were completed to-day for the shipment of the Thomas flyer, the American representa-tive in the Paris-New York automobile race, to morrow.

Overcoming difficulties that would have broken the heart of two less enthusiastic men than Emilio Sirtori and Antonio Scarfoglio of the Italian Zust car, the men from sunny Italy dropped their repaired car into the great desert west of Salt Lake to-day and started at a great pace for the Ely-Goldfield-San Bernardino-Los Angeles-San Jose route that will lead them into Frisco in several days.

Still back in Wyoming the other contending foreign cars, the French Da Dion and ing foreign cars, the French De Dion and German Protos, increased the pace. Climbing the sumult of the Wasatch range of mountains safely, the De Dion was sent to the long grade toward Ogden, Driver St. Chaffray relinquishing the wheel to Alfred Autran.

ARCHBISHOP FARLEY AT GAMES. He Enjoys Antics of the Athletes at St. Ann's Indoor Contests.

The St. Ann's Junior Holy Name Society held its annual indoor games in the Sixtyninth Regiment armory last night and one of the most interested spectators was Arch-bishop John M. Farley. His Grace was accompanied by the Most Rev. Joseph Aversa, the papal delegate to Cuba, and both occupied a box near the finish line. It was the first indoor athletic meet the Archbishop president. Mr. Morrell was chairman of the attended and he enjoyed the antics of the youngsters. There was a crowd of about

TOLEDO TEAM EASY FOR NEW YORK AMERICANS.

Griffith's Men Handy With the Bat, Scoring Nine Buns to Two for Their Opponents -Elberfeld at Work-Nationals Beat Dallas, While Brooklyns Lose a Game.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 28 .- The series with the Toledo club closed to-day with another easy victory for the New York Americans. The score was 9 to 2. Griffith's men have not had as hard practice in this series as they could have had with the scrub team at Atlanta and as the financial return to the club was almost nothing the manager is not highly elated with the result. The team has shown batting ability and speed in the two games but it looks as though the real cause was that the Toledo team was deplorably weak. Walter Manning pitched the first five innings for New York and was nearly all the time in trouble but he showed good nerve and ability to get out of bad places. In the last inning he pitched Manning allowed three singles in succession but good work by his team mates got him out of that inning without being scored on. In the fourth inning the first man walked and the next batter made a base hit. An outfield fly sent one run across and Quinn doubled scoring Elwert with Toledo's other run.

New York made three runs in the first inning. Keeler singled. Stahl was hit by a pitched ball. Ball forced Niles who had reached first on an error. Chase swung at the third strike when he saw that it was a wild pitch and went around to third before the ball was recovered, Keeler and Stahl scoring ahead of him. Ball was caught trying to get home on the same play. Hemphill then hit to right for two bases so ring

Stahl went to second on an error in the fifth and scored on Ball's single. Ball went to second on the throw to try to catch Stahl and scored on Chase's single. Chase tried to get to third and was caught.

Sweeney got a pass in the sixth and scored on an out and a single.

Stahl and Hemphill were the batting stars. Each man reached first base five times in that number of times at bat.

NATIONALS WERE QUIBATTED, But Tricky Ball Playing Won for McGraw's Men in Game With Dallas.

The difference between big and little league was aptly illustrated by the methods which carried the New Yorks to victory. Up to the eighth inning New York had made only one nit. Peters, who pitched the first six innings for Dallas, was succeeded six innings for Dallas, was succeeded by Moore, a left hander, who has been prougly recommended to McGraw. It appeared that Moore was just as effective as his predecessor and that the game would surely go into extra innings, but when the New Yorks realized this they forced Moore to yield three runs off two hits. The big leaguers played tricky ball and got the Dallas pitcher upset just enough for their purpose.

Bresnahan was the first man up in the eighth. By running up to meet the ball he bethered Moore and drew a base on balls. Devlin smashed one through short for the second New York hit. Doyle tried to sacrifice, but tapped a low fly to the pitcher. In his anxiety to double Devlin at first, Moore made a hasty throw and hit Devlin on the shoulder. Before the ball could be recovered both runners had moved up a base.

The situation was up to Moore again when Bridwell pushed an easy grounder at him. Bresnahan rushed off third to draw the throw away from first and Moore came after him, ball in hand. Instead of getting Bresnahan was in a runup Moore decided to capture him single handed. He rushed forward and swung with the ball where he thought Bresnahan would dodge. Instead of going back, however, Bresnahan darted for the plate. Moore almost fell down from the impetus of his lunge and when he recovered Bresnahan was home and all the other runners safe.

The peetered pitcher went back to the box and made a wild pitch which allowed Devlin to score. Beecher stuck out but Shannon singled to left, secring Bridwell.

McGinnity was reached for only two hits in the first five innings. Neither he nor Beecher gave a base on balls or hit a batter. In the ninth inning the first two Dallas batters singled. The next two were retired, but the third man hit for two bases, scoring a run. A hit would have tied the score, but Beecher retired the next man. Merkle was on first to-day as Tenney has a bad finger. The same teams will play again to morrow. The score:

BROOKLYNS DROP A GAME. Pitcher New to League Contests Puzzles Donovan's Men. JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 26,-The Jacksonville South Atlantic League team won from the Brooklyns to-day by a score of 5 to 2. Hanson, a youngster who has never before played league ball, pitched the entire game for the home team, and except in the fifth inning had the big leaguers completely at his mercy. The Brooklyns had Bell, one of their regulars, on the firing line, but he was no puzzle to the Jacksonville batters, being touched up freely in the first, seventh and eighth innings. The outfield was exceedingly rough and a good many hits went for extra bases on that account. The Brooklyns had regular men in all the positions, and neither team changed its lineup the entire game.

Golf has again been given a place among the minor sports at Columbia and about thirty devotees of the game have started practising on the links of the Dunwoodie Country Club. The last golf team which represented the Blue and White played on the Englewood links in 1905, but until the the Englewood links in 1905, but until the present season no attempt was made to revive the sport. The management has arranged games with the teems of the leading metropolitan and suburban country clubs. Matches will also be played with other college teems later on in the year and it is expected that a Columbia team will be entered in the intercollegiate tournament next autumn. The schedule as arranged to date is as follows: April 18, Dyker Meadow at Dyker Meadows; April 18, Forest, Hills at Newark; May 9, Scarsdale at Scarsdale; May 16, Hackensack at Hackensack; May 23, Siwanoy at Siwanoy.

Yale Crews Take First Pull in the Harbor. NEW HAVEN, March 26 .- The varsity squad of oarsmen, four crews strong, got their first pull in the harbor yesterday, when Coach Kennedy and Capt, Ide found the water smooth enough outside to give the men a row to the end of Long Wharf and back. Griswold, who was stroking the first or varsity eight, had his crew in good form and rowing pretty smoothly for the short course. The chief vacancy in the varity boat this year is Boulton's place at stroke, and if Griswold can develop the necessary rhythm he will undoubtedly keep the seat through the season. vale's poor training quarters this season have proved a big drawback to the work of the crew. One excellent crew had to be disbanded this spring because of lack of facilities at the Vale boathouse.

New Man for Cornell Crew. ITHACA, N. Y., March 26 .- Coach Charles E. Courtney of Cornell has found a new oarsman for the varsity crew. This afternoon E. A. Stevens, a junior in the college of law, who has had some experience in intercollege rowing, but never rowed in any varsity shells, was sent in at No. 7 in the varsity and made a very favorable impression. The "old man" was pleased with the youngster's work, and it is expected that he will fill one of the vacancies in the first shell. Bromley and Gracy, two of last year's men, were sent into the four oared crew, which was formed to-night. The other two men are Trimpi and Holt, both good oarsmen, and the combination is considered very strong.
